To: Mrs. Lucas

One of my best of friends! It has been one of the greatest pleasures of my life to have known you this year and any other year, and I hope that our friendship will be everlasting and eternal. Remember all of good times that we have had together and I think that I couldn't have known a better person than you with your beautiful personality and your very few odd ways. Luck to you in your future plans and remember your crazy pal me.

Your Spanish fool

Jeane H. Lucas

Mrs. Lucas,
I am pleased to have had the opportunity of being a student in your Spanish classes. I feel that you are friendly, intelligent, kind, but most of all you are able to understand the problems of today's teenagers. Remain as you are and who knows perhaps one day your dream will come true ... Plenty of M-O-N-E-Y.

Always,

THE

HORNET

PUBLISHED BY THE SENIOR CLASS

Hillside High School
DURHAM, NORTH CAROLINA

Foreword

As eager, immature sophomores, the class of '69 entered Hillside in the fall of '66 unprepared for the life that lay ahead. A bold and ambitious lot, we quickly began our metamorphosis from immature adolescents to responsible young adults.

With the onset of maturity, an often slow and painful process, came a determination and willingness to learn, to help, and to serve. Thus we felt upon our arrival a new beginning; a beginning filled with promises of a different way of life.

These, then, were our years at Hillside; years filled with victory and defeat. These were the years that we laughed together and cried together. We shared our joys and our sorrows.

This, the '69 Hornet, has endeavored to capture the spirit of these times. Between its covers lies the golden memories of our brief time in the halls of Hillside High. It has captured what we believe is the true spirit of '69.

So, we take a nostalgic glance backward, as we reflect on our high school years. We leave Hillside with complex feelings. There is sadness for the loss of those gay, carefree days and anticipation for the uncertain future that lies ahead.

Though the future is uncertain, one thing is certain. As sophomores, we came here young and unprepared, and as seniors we leave knowing that we can, we must, we will endure.

Dedication

As in the case with all great classes, there are forces that perpetuate them. We, the graduating class of '69, believe that two people whom we have worked with have displayed the patience, endurance, compassion, understanding, wisdom, concern, and love that was necessary to mold us into responsible, mature young adults.

We will forever remain grateful to them for their ceaseless efforts and fierce dedication as they firmly imprinted principles that will guide our lives.

So it is with deep gratitude and respect that we, the Class of '69, dedicate this, the 1969 EDITION of THE HORNET to two we both love and respect . . .

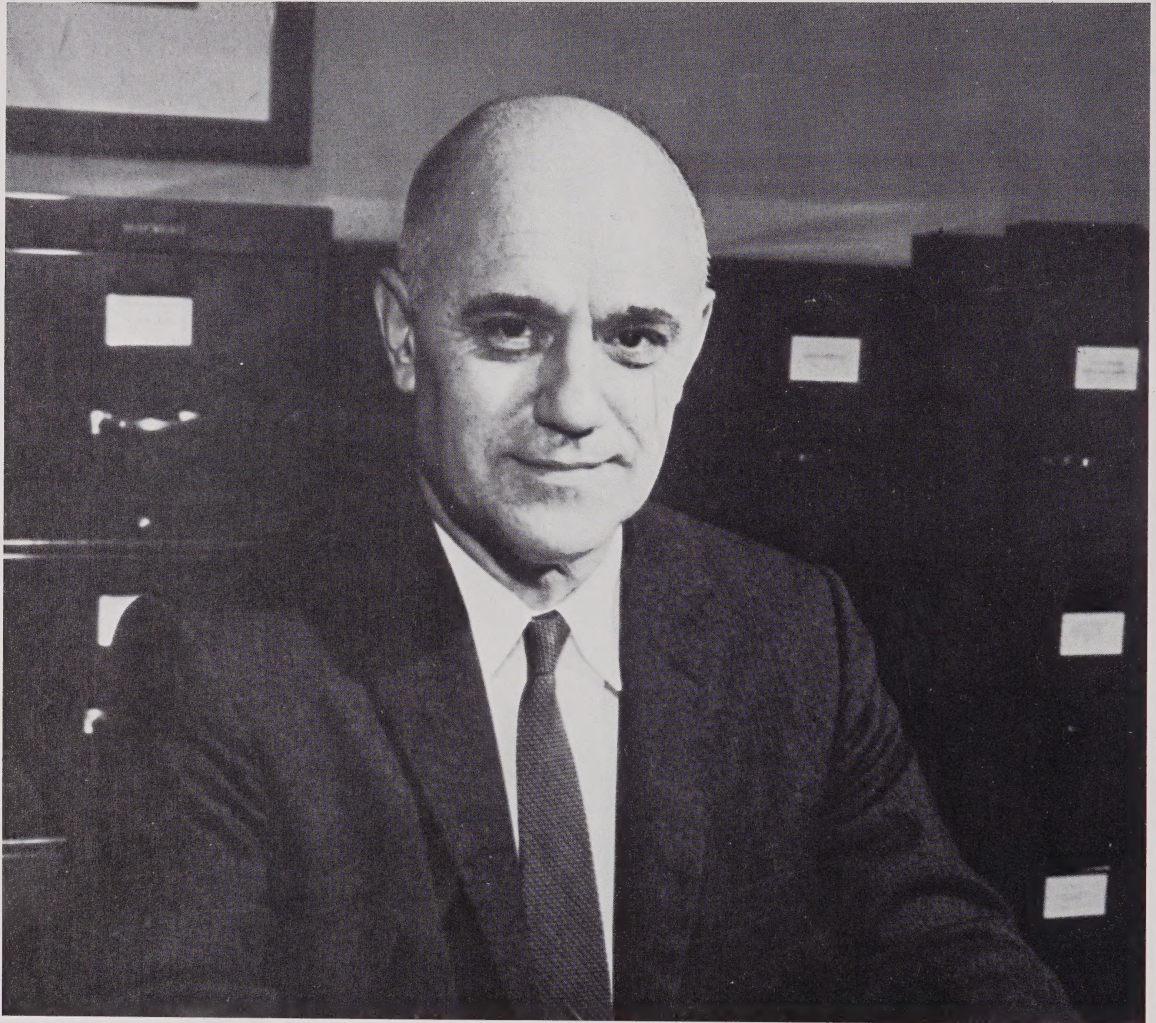

Mrs. Mable Mabry

Mr. Marion Taylor

I congratulate you upon completion of your high school course. The real world of work now opens before you. More training is necessary. Investigate all factors involved in your situation and go on and get the training that you will need in the years ahead.

You have competition to meet, a contribution to society to make, a life to live that will bring you rich returns.

I extend best wishes for success as you face the challenge.

Congratulations to the Class of 1969 for diligence in the production of this edition of "THE HORNET."

I have enjoyed sharing many of your educational experiences at Hillside High School. May God grant each of you humanitarian sympathies with moral integrity to render unselfish service to all human beings.

Best wishes for health, happiness, and success.

John H. Lucas, Principal

Congratulations are expressed to the Yearbook Staff (teachers and students) on the 1969 Edition of the Hillside High School Yearbook (The Hornet). Hard work and an unrelenting spirit guided your fine publication.

TO THE CLASS OF 1969. You have, I hope, enjoyed three (3) years of meaningful study and a fine relationship at your Alma Mater, Hillside High School. The determination of your high school studies warrants sincere congratulations. May your future be guided by God and filled with new visions, equality of opportunities and a crystallization of true brotherhood for you, your parents, guardians, and friends.

F. Howard Alston
Assistant Principal
Boys' Adviser

Congratulations for being who you are! You are most fortunate to be graduating during such a whirlwind of events.

A brief glimpse of your senior year mirrors a parade of startling experiences; some evoking sorrow, others joy. For it is during this time that your nation mourns the recent assassinations of two of its most illustrious sons; that you wince at the miserable state of foreign affairs; that you observe and inadvertently become participants in a struggle for the well-being and dignity of each human-being; and that you must even plan your own lives with uncertainty, for this is the condition of the times in which you live.

And so--yours is an age of challenge! As you begin your new venture, keep in mind the advice of the Roman emperor, Marcus Aurelius, who said, "Understand, however, that every man is worth just as much as the things are worth about which he busies himself."

Good luck and God bless you!

To Mrs. J. H. Lucas,
 I've known you for some time now, but you didn't know me, but just the same, I have enjoyed you these last past six months of my last school year. You have a very pleasing personality and

 I remember me as "Little Sadie", and you I meant one of your smart Spanish II students.
 Much more happiness to you and yours
 in the future to come.

I adore you an awful lot and I do like your appearances. You are the most sweetest lady teacher at Hillside High School.
 Again may life be an enjoyable one to

To Mrs. Lucas,
 This book doesn't have the space for me to write what I would really like to say about a wonderful person such as you.
 I remember the earlier days when I was attending elementary school and Angela Page. I would come over to Hilside and write on the blackboards.
 It was fun, not only visiting but meeting and keeping a fellowship of friends.
 From your

 my ambition is to become a Spanish Instructor

 in some fine of work dealing with Spanish
 I hope the best of luck follows you

Alma Mater

O Hillside High, O Hillside High,
We cherish thee with honor.
Though some day we're far away,
We'll be true forever,
To a school so dear--
You will live forever,
Through all eternity

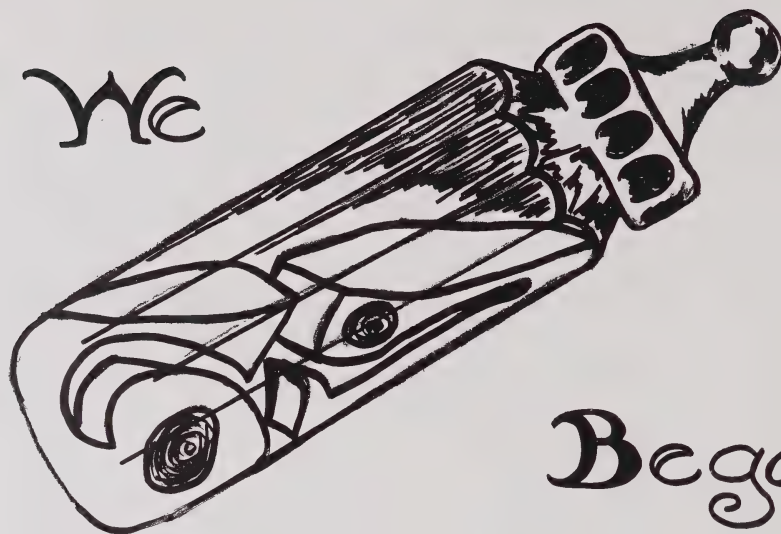

Dear old Hillside how we love thee,
How we love the blue and white.
From us thy name will never depart,
Never will it die.
Our hearts are gleeful,
Filled with joy and pride.
Your memory lingers always
Three cheers,
Three cheers for HILLSIDE HIGH.

Upon the hill, dear Hillside High,
With Courage we proclaim thee.
We, your sons, and daughters too,
Are always true to you.
We'll forever love thee,
Yours a lasting name,
It will be our duty,
To always keep your fame.

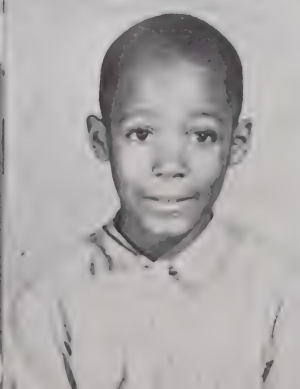

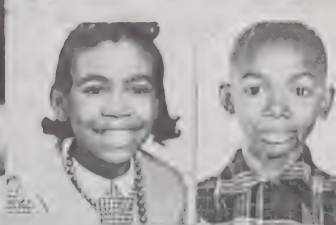

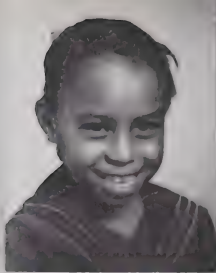

Dear old Hillside how we love thee,
How we love the blue and white.
From us thy name will never depart,
Never will it die.
Our hearts are gleeful,
Filled with joy and pride.
Your memory lingers always
Three cheers,
Three cheers for HILLSIDE HIGH.

As We Began...

From the Beginning . . .

Soon, some bright day in June, the Hornet Family will be divided. This is a suitable ending to four years of togetherness, for in the beginning, we started upon our quest for knowledge at Shepard, Whitted, and various other junior high schools.

Part of the mighty Hornet Family first made its debut at Whitted Junior High School. There the Vikings began their struggle to success in sports. William Covington lead the mighty Viking gridiron to numerous victories in football. Richard Peacock, Alvin Pitts, Donnie Crossland, Robert Rivers and Chris Kennell assisted him in fantastic football feats. Baseball, captained by Tyrone Alston, was well represented by players who would lead Hillside in its march to victory. The basketball team never tasted defeat under the able leadership of Frederick Clay, and with players like Tyrone Alston assisting, there is little wonder why the Vikings boasted such a fantastic team. The exceptional ability in the Vikings was truly displayed in the area of track. Donnie Crossland, William Covington, Richard Peacock, and Robert Rivers took to the wind proving themselves worthy of the praise and admiration they received.

Meanwhile, Shepard was not lagging in its achievements in sports. The outstanding Paul Stroud, along with Raymond Sharpe, Arnold Barnes, Leonard Lyons, Samuel Pratt, George Lipscomb, Willard Harris, Kenneth Herndon, Walter Lyon, and Gordon Matthewson did a great deal to pour in honors and prove their school capable of outstanding basketball. "Light footed" was the word to describe Willard Harris, Phillip Umstead, Herman Watson, Michael Johnson, Robert Garrett and Linwood Green as they successfully completed a track season that would go down in Shepard's history. Standing behind these mighty players cheering their hearts out were the ever faithful cheerleaders. At Whitted the line-up included Janet Owens, head-cheerleader, Marva Brown, Barbara Truitt, and Sybil Reddrick backing her up with vim and vigor. Shepard's squad was led by Debra McLaurin, Sadie McNeal, Kacellia Beamon, Rosa Jones, and Lucretia Long.

Receiving superior ratings, Whitted's marching and concert band were well represented by drum majorette, Marva Brown, along with Barbara Truitt, also a majorette. Marjorie Harrington offered her able assistance as band president.

Student Council president for the Viking was Ava Armstrong while the Panthers at Shepard were led by Harriet Brooks.

Finally the brawn and brains of these praise-worthy institutions were combined, and Vikings and Panthers became Hornets in the fall of "66".

As the sophomore class of '67 immersed, sophomore officers Charles Henderson, President; Garcia Sampson, Vice President; Beverly McLaughlin, Secretary; Valeria Hayes, Assistant Secretary; Barbara Truitt, Treasurer; and Marguaree Durden, Parliamentarian did their best in achieving voice and respect for their fellow classmates.

Hillside gained more grace in its modern dance group with the addition of Judy Tapp, Yvonne Wilcher, Bettie Johnson, Jackie Channelle, Sheila Bullock, Valeria Hayes, Joann Roberts, Lila Armstrong, Wanda Haskins, Debra McLaurin, Vicki Unstead, and Sadie McNeal.

Barbara Truitt received the honor of being Miss Sophomore Sweetheart. Her attendants were Peggy Spicer and Valeria Hayes.

The Sophomore class was not totally out of things in '67 during the Junior-Senior Prom. Playing hosts and hostesses to the gala affair were Brenda McClain, Beverly McLaughlin, Marilyn Blake, Sheila Bullock, Judy Tapp, Wanda Haskins, Debra McLaurin, Darlene Knight, Peggy Spicer, Michael Brown, Arnold Barnes, Charles Henderson, William Kennedy, and Harold Smith. Thus, our first year at Hillside drew to a close.

In the fall of '67 we returned to Hillside eager to prove ourselves. Our Junior year began with promise as Garcia Sampson led the class as president. Vice President, Brenda McClain; Secretary, Phyllis Joyner; Assistant Secretary, Jacqueline Channelle; Treasurer, Charles Henderson; and Parliamentarian, Leonard Lyon did their part in establishing a beautiful administration. Beverly McLaughlin also served as secretary of the Student Council.

Honoring themselves and the Junior Class, twenty-one students were inducted into the National Honor Society. Jacqueline Channelle, Johnetta Roberts, Lorraine Ford, Darlene Knight, Brenda McClain, Gloria Thorpe, Barbara Truitt, Ava Armstrong, Judy Tapp, Valeria King, Mary Neal, Garcia Sampson, Eleanoise Roberts, Glenn Pettiford, Deborah Rogers, Beverly McLaughlin, Deborah Long, Elaine Harris, Bettie Johnson, Jackie Rogers, and Gail Mason were inductees symbolizing the character, leadership, and service so outstanding in the class.

Unlike the procedures of the past, the Junior Class of "68" experienced the privilege of a Junior Week. To end the festive mood, the Grand Finale featured a Junior-A-Go-Go, written by Gloria Thorpe. Participants in the play were William Covington, Dr. Shagoo-goo; Kacellia Beamon, Narrator; and Barbara Truitt, Associate Narrator.

Finally, prom night arrived. Under the setting of Roman Holidays, Alton Joyner escorted Evelina Mack, Miss Junior Sweetheart, in the Waltz which was done with grace and charm. Following them were James Lillie, Kacellia Beamon, Walter Lyon, Ronald Coleman, Joann Roberts, Garcia Sampson, Alvin Pitts, Richard Barnes, Sheila Bullock, Rubye Corbitt, Gloria Thorpe, and David Sellars. Linda Barbee, Shelia Leathers, and Rubye Corbitt were Miss Junior Sweetheart's attendants.

Prom night ended which brought greater anticipation to both junior and senior classes. Honored as Marshalls for the 1968 Commencement exercises were Ava Armstrong, Lorraine Ford, Johnetta Roberts, and Gail Mason.

Over the summer of 1968 Charles Henderson and Darlene Knight represented the Hornet family at Boys' and Girls' State in Winston-Salem and Greensboro respectively.

And so, the Class of '69 entered these hallowed halls for the last time in September of 1968 with hope, anticipation, and excitement.

Heading the Student Council was Garcia Sampson. Assisting him was Beverly McLaughlin, Vice President; Sheila Bullock, Corresponding Secretary; Jackie Channelle, Recording Secretary; Judy Tapp, Treasurer; Donnie Crossland, Parliamentarian; Charles Henderson, Vice President; and William Kennedy, President; led the Senior Class as its Class officers.

The versatile Miss Janet Owens reigned as Miss Hillside with goodness and beauty. Her coronation was a lovely affair; and her court, first attendant, Sadie McNeal and second attendant, Marva Brown, framed her every charm.

Sports held its own over that memorable year as track took the lead in our winning sports. William Covington, Richard Peacock, Phillip Umstead, Herman Watson, Victor Morrison, Gordon Matthewson, and Donnie Crossland made up the track team moving swiftly and surely to many victories.

The mighty Hornet cagers Tyrone Alston, Arnold Barnes, Frederick Clay, Joe Johnson, George Lipscomb, Victor Morrison, Raymond Sharpe, and Eric Ruth saw victories and defeats, but the Hornet spirit remained in tack.

The Hornet Gridiron experienced a fairly successful year with seniors Richard Peacock, William Covington, Victor Morrison, Daryl Crawford, Alvin Pitts, Phillip Umstead, Gordon Matthewson, Donnie Crossland, Christopher Kennell, James Lillie, Ronald Coleman, Richard Barnes, Robert Rivers, Thomas Gilmer, and Walter Lyon, working and playing their hearts out. Unlike the basketball team, the football boys choose a Homecoming Queen, lovely and humble, Valeria Anita Hayes. Her court included Constance Prince, first attendant; Kacellia Beamon and Sadie McNeal, second attendants.

The school newspaper, the Chronicle, was edited by Phyllis Joyner with Bernard Easterling as associate editor. Other staff members of the Chronicle were Johnetta Roberts, Alton Joyner, Darlene Knight, Eve Beamon, Barbara Truitt, Parepa McCrea, and Brenda Hopkins.

Johnetta Roberts was responsible for the production of the yearbook, The Hornet. Her staff included Phyllis Joyner, Alton Joyner, Bernard Easterling, Kacellia Beamon, Cherry Haskins, Darlene Knight, Eric Ruth, Judy Tapp, Harry Edmonds, Sam Pratt, Beverly McLaughlin, Wanda Haskins, Joann Roberts, and Charles Henderson.

Soon after school reopened in the fall of 1968, two students were chosen by the faculty and administration to represent Hillside at the first Rhododendren Yearbook Conference held at Boone, North Carolina. The individuals were Johnetta Roberts and Phyllis Joyner, editors of The Hornet and the Chronicle respectively.

The band, as usual, demonstrated their excellency as they marched with Milton Glenn, Drum Major and Marva Brown, Head Majorette. Receiving superior ratings at many concerts and contests, the band proved themselves worthy of their famed reputation. The senior majorettes were Rebecca Hayes, Barbara Truitt, and Marva Brown.

Keeping together the Spirit of '69 were the romping and raving cheerleaders. Valeria Hayes led the lot consisting of Kacellia Beamon, Sadie McNeal, Sybil Reddick, Wanda Haskins, Lucretia Long, Sheila Bullock, and Joann Roberts.

Yes, these are the events that made the Class of '69 great. Its victories, its defeats, its happiness and its deepest sorrows shaped the hearts and minds of the Hornet family and led it to where it stands today.

But as we depart from our Alma Mater, let us not forget what we have learned here. Let us not forget what we have experienced here. Let us not forget the friends we have made. As we plan our futures, let us not forget our dreams. Let us not forget our hopes and desires. And, as our futures unfold, let us always remember:

The world stands out on either side
No wider than the heart is wide;
Above the world is stretched the sky,
No higher than the soul is high.
The heart can push the sea and land
Farther away on either hand;
The soul can split the sky in two,
And let the face of God shine through.
But East and West will pinch the heart
That cannot keep them pushed apart;
And he whose soul is flat--the sky
Will cave in on him by and by.

Edna St. Vincent Millay

Mrs. Lucas,
Being a part of your class this year has been a most magnificent pleasure. You really possess a personality and smile that will always live in the minds of those you taught and who I was really nice while I lasted.

To my "favorite" teacher, everything I am writing comes from my heart. I really think that you are an "in" person. I have never met a teacher like you. You are so different. (In a nice sort of way) You are a person that would make any student interested in his or her work. Always think of me.
 Always,
